HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

For the 12-month period ended December 31, 2024, the Fund's No-Load class posted 76.44% outperforming benchmarks S&P 500 Index and the NASDAQ Composite Index which posted 25.02% and 28.64%, respectively.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

The Fund's performance was largely driven by its exposure to blockchain and cryptocurrency, with Bitcoin prices more than doubling for the second consecutive year. Bitcoin continues to distinguish itself from other cryptocurrencies, which is supported by an increasingly supportive regulatory environment. Additionally, the Fund benefited from strong gains in "hard asset" companies, which we believe stand to benefit from rising price levels as well as technological innovations, particularly in the energy sector. Energy prices were mixed for the year, as strong supply growth negated resilient demand. However, our investments in energy-related royalties and land/infrastructure were less impacted by commodity market fluctuations due to distinct growth drivers.

POSITIONING

The portfolio remains focused on undervalued companies participating in the growth of the internet as well as companies that provide new services or products made possible by internet-related technologies. Guided by our long-term value investment philosophy, the Fund may experience periods of outperformance or underperformance relative to the benchmark, but we believe the Fund is well-positioned to generate above-market returns over the long term.

PERFORMANCE

The Fund's top contributor: Security selection collectively contributed positively to performance particularly with the Fund's overweight exposure to blockchain and cryptocurrency. Grayscale Bitcoin Trust ETF ("GBTC") was the largest contributor to returns.

The Fund's top detractor: Bakkt Holdings, Inc ("BKKT") detracted marginally from returns.
