HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

For the 12-month period ended December 31, 2024, the Fund's No-Load class posted 84.08%, significantly outperforming benchmarks S&P 500 Index and MSCI EAFE Index which posted 25.02% and 3.82%, respectively.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

The Fund's performance was driven by strong positive returns in "hard asset" companies, which we believe are well-positioned to benefit from rising prices, particularly in the energy sector. Energy prices were mixed for the year, as strong supply growth negated resilient demand. Our energy exposure to royalties and land/infrastructure decoupled from commodity markets due to unique growth drivers. Blockchain and cryptocurrency also contributed positively, with Bitcoin prices more than doubling for the second consecutive year. Bitcoin continues to set itself apart from other cryptocurrencies, supported by a more favorable regulatory landscape.

POSITIONING

The portfolio remains focused on high-quality, durable businesses with exposure to hard assets, which we believe are well-positioned to perform across various macroeconomic conditions, particularly in a sustained inflationary environment. Guided by our long-term value investment philosophy, the Fund may experience periods of outperformance or underperformance relative to the benchmark, but we believe the Fund is well-positioned to generate above-market returns over the long term.

PERFORMANCE

The Fund's top contributor: Security selection collectively contributed positively to performance particularly with the Fund's overweight exposure to Energy and Blockchain/Cryptocurrency. Texas Pacific Land Corporation ("TPL") was the largest contributor to returns.

The Fund's top detractor: Permian Basin Royalty Trust ("PBT") detracted marginally from returns.
